Amendments to Party Programme and Constitution Ard Fheis 1991

Workers' Party of Ireland
Amendments to Party Programme and Constitution

Ard Fheis 1991
1. This Ard Fheis resolves that all matters concerning organisation, rules and regulations be dealt with at our next Annual Ard Fheis in 1992, thereby allowing sufficient time to take on board changes necessitated by the adoption of the Party Programme and Constitution, and to have any proposed changes fully discussed throughout the Party.

ARD COMHAIRLE (CEC)

2. That this Ard Fheis endorses the convening of a special delegate conference on organisational reform as soon as is possible in 1991.

DUN LAOGHAIRE

3. 'Social ownership' This term to read 'democratic social ownership'

Finglas West (DUB NTH WEST)

INTRODUCTION

Insert as penultimate paragraph in Introduction

"The Party, while recognising the importance of cultural and ideological struggle, asserts the central importance of the class struggle, the working class and the role of a revolutionary democratic socialist party in the movement for political, economic and social change and the transformation of capitalist society".

BELFAST REGION

General

This section totally ignores the position of women in Northern Ireland who suffer the greatest inequality. Women are more likely to suffer discrimination in employment, pay and educational opportunities. An over concentration on the issue of Catholic/Protestant unemployment masks this, and plays up the sectarian agenda, i.e. that nationalists are downtrodden. The issues of sectarianism and inequality can only be addressed by using a class analysis.

Sectarianism and inequality are embedded in the class structure of Northern Ireland society. They are reinforced by a state apparatus, by sectarian political parties and the Churches. All of these work against the interest of the working class and defend the core principles of capitalism.

When in the sectarian agenda the Catholic/Protestant unemployment is the only yardstick that we use, the development of the community at large is held back. It ceases to be a class issue but a religious discrimination issue and workers are forgotten and analysis is clouded.

DOWNPATRICK
1.2 Delete second sentence from 'Yet none' to 'Irish life', and insert: 'It should be self evident that none of the other political parties ever challenge the privileged elite which sustain them in power and are responsible for the inequalities in Irish society'. Also delete in last line after represent the word 'those'.

BELFAST REGION

Comment
1.2 It is vital for the Party's progress and accountability to its membership, that a formal mechanism of accountability of parliamentary representative be devised. While we have the utmost trust and confidence in our TDs, the Party is rapidly growing and it is important that it does not become a Parliamentary Party, but a Party of all its members.

DOWNPATRICK

1.3 Insert in last line after the word transformation, 'from capitalism to socialism'.

BELFAST REGION

1.4 Delete from second sentence third line the word 'social' and insert in its place the word 'class'.

BELFAST REGION

1.6 Delete all after "mechanism" in the first sentence, down to "case". Substitute "so that it serves the interests of all society rather than individual greed."

DERRY

1.6 Delete second sentence.

Tallaght East/Greenhills (Dub 5th West)

1.6 Delete 'racial, religious or sex'.

Liberties (Dub 5th Central)

1.6 Delete "social" from last line.

Dub Nth Central

1.6 Delete first sentence "We will have to socialise the market mechanism, using it to serve a wider social interest than has hitherto been the case" and delete last sentence "We are international in outlook but equally proud of our own social progress here in Ireland.

BELFAST REGION

1.7 Add to paragraph, "The Party must be a party of the people standing with the poor and the oppressed, with the youth, women and the aged, with trade unionists fighting for an active, dynamic and democratic movement, to the forefront of the struggle for a better quality of life, social welfare facilities and against exploitation, poverty and discrimination".

BELFAST REGION
1.8 Delete the word "in" on last line and insert the word 'of'.

1.9 Delete from the third sentence the words "the greatest possible number of" and insert in its place the word 'all'.

Also delete the last sentence "Very often, it is single issue campaigns which lead them to a more global understanding of society as a whole."

1.10 Add on to last sentence after the word oppression, "While always adopting a principled socialist position".

BELFAST REGION

1.11 Delete from first line the words "Our vision of society" and insert "Our Party programme".

BELFAST REGION

1.12 Delete from first sentence the word "representatives" and insert the word 'membership'

Also add on to last line after the word 'party' "As part of the democratic process the Party must always maintain the right to recall and deselect representatives of the Party."

BELFAST REGION

1.13 Add on to last sentence after the word party. 'However we recognise that all change is not progressive and some change can only be judged as progressive or regressive in an historical context.'

BELFAST REGION

1.14 Last sentence: insert "with groups committed to democratic values" between 'alliances' and 'on'.

Bray West (Wicklow)

1.15 Last sentence: delete the following phrase "the voice of the Party and".

Bray West (Wicklow)

1.15 Delete from last sentence the words "voice of the party" and insert in its place 'an important and integral part of the party'.

BELFAST REGION

1.16 The fourth sentence be amended to read "Social Ownership and control of natural and financial resources is fundamental to economic equality."
1.16 Insert "socially responsive" between "efficient" and "modern".

Bray West (Wicklow)

1.16 Delete last sentence of paragraph and insert "Poverty and inequality are inherent in the present structure of Irish society. The economic and political structures of capitalist societies are primarily determined by the relationship between the class which owns and controls the wealth of the country and the working class and arises out of the capitalist mode of production. While recognising the need to develop our economic potential in the prevailing competitive international conditions we recognise that it is capitalist property relations which are the cause of this inequality which can only be removed by building a socialist economic system."

BELFAST REGION

1.18 Insert after the words 'European Community' on line three. "We are committed to the development of a Common European Home, from the Atlantic to the Urals.

BELFAST REGION
2.2 Insert after the word "citizenship", "the equitable distribution of wealth"

DERRY

2.2 Insert on line one after the word 'philosophy'. "We draw upon the radical Democratic, Secular, Republican tradition as expressed by the United Irishmen and the French Revolution".

Also insert "economic and social rights" between the words "freedom" and "equality of citizenship" on line five.

BELFAST REGION

2.3 Delete "as many as possible of"

DERRY

2.3 Delete from last sentence "as many as possible" and insert in its place "all".

BELFAST REGION

2.4 Insert in second line after the word "class", 'Age, disability, sexual orientation, creed, sex, ethnic or racial origins'.

BELFAST REGION

2.4 Add 'age' after "sex" and to change 'sex' to "gender".

DUN LAOGHAIRE

2.4 The terms 'gender', 'sexual orientation' and 'mental or physical disability' should be included so that the first sentence of this clause reads as follows:

We are committed to developing a society in which all citizens are full and equal partners, free from discrimination on any basis such as: birth, age, disability; economic or other status; national or social origin; language, religion, political or other opinion; gender, marital status or sexual orientation; race or ethnic origin.

We wish to give equality of citizenship a new and expanded meaning in a truly democratic society.

Cabra (DUB CENTRAL)

delete "on the basis of class, creed, sex or racial origins"

Insert "on any basis such as: birth, age, disability; economic or other status; national or social origin; language, religion, political or other opinion; gender, marital status or sexual orientation; race or ethnic origin.

We wish to give equality of citizenship a new and expanded meaning in a truly democratic society."

Liberties (DUB STH CENTRAL)
2.6 Delete from the first line the words "Social solidarity for us is", and insert the words 'For us class solidarity is'

BELFAST REGION

2.6 Insert after "human being", "and the worth to society of individuals who use their skills and talents in an enterprising and effective manner".

Tallaght East/Greenhills (DUB STH WEST)

2.8 Delete from first line the words "We particularly value the democratic political achievements of" and insert in place "We acknowledge the limited democratic political achievement in". Delete the word "immeasurably" from second sentence, third line.

BELFAST REGION

2.8 Delete existing clause and replace with the following:

"We particularly value these democratic political achievements won in our own country by many generations of struggle. These achievements have helped to create the conditions upon which we can build our future social progress."

Nth City Centre (DUB CENTRAL)

2.11 Delete from the second sentence on line five from the word "if" to "economy" and insert "in a socialist economic system".

BELFAST REGION

2.14 Delete all of second sentence, from "Social ownership" to "centralised control".

DERRY

2.16 Delete from the first line the words 'In our view'.

BELFAST REGION

2.17 Delete "also" from first line.

DUB NTH CENTRAL

2.19 Insert a new section, 2.19, to read

"We are committed to the creation of a secular society and a secular state, where every individual has freedom to hold any religious or spiritual belief or none, but where no acknowledgement or position is given to any such belief by the state or any of its institutions, and where public decision-making is not dictated by the precepts of any denomination."

DERRY
2.19 From a socialist perspective, the formulation of a cultural policy has to start by questioning the narrow and elitist definition which is generally accepted - the belief that culture is primarily the domain of the arts. Against this must be proposed an understanding of the arts as arising out of culture, as an expression of the way of life of the people.

2.20 UNESCO's working definition of culture as 'the sum of all the practices, and attitudes, which affect man's capacity to express himself, determine his position in the world, create his environment and communicate with all civilisations' is a good one. If we think of all cultural policy in this flexible way, we escape the dangers of seeing cultural policy as prescriptive.

2.21 A cultural policy is not primarily an artistic matter, but a political one; the purpose of cultural policy is not to determine the content of cultural life, nor to provide guidelines for creative and artistic work, but to produce conditions conducive to genuine self-expression and open participation in cultural life by the people. It is about democratic access to the riches of a shared culture. It is not about laying down the law for artists.

2.22 A cultural policy is a political policy in another sense. In Ireland today the economic conditions for political change already exist. There is an urban working-class as the majority component of society and there is the failure of the economic and political institutions to meet the basic needs of that class. Crucially, what does not yet exist is the culture of change, a set of values and attitudes on the part of the working-class as a whole which is conducive to change. The cultural question, therefore, could be a central one.

DEMONCRACY, CITIZENSHIP AND THE STATE

3.5 Amend first sentence to read "The state is not a neutral instrument nor a simple tool of whichever political party happens to be in government but it remains an instrument in the hands of the ruling class."

Delete the words "sensitive and responsive" in second sentence and insert the word 'susceptible'.

BELFAST REGION

3.6 Add to last sentence: "Socialists must use the state in a democratic, accountable and less centralised manner".

BELFAST REGION

3.7 Delete the first sentence from "The" to "divisions" and insert "The rapid growth of the Irish State in the last thirty years has perpetuated elitism and privilege which has reinforced class divisions and impeded the social mobility which has been a feature of European social democratic states."

BELFAST REGION

3.10 Delete the word "electoral" on the forth line and insert the word 'Political'. Delete the words "local issues" and insert the word 'Clientelism' on same line.

BELFAST REGION

3.12 While we would not disagree with any of the specific statements or propositions in this clause, the Cabra Branch feels that, given the complexity of the Northern Irish issue, a one day conference should be devoted to the subject after the Ard Fheis.

Cabra (DUB CENTRAL)

3.12 That the words "secular and" be deleted from the second sentence.

3.12 Delete all of last sentence, from "Democratic accountability" to "Grand Committee".

And, insert at end of previous sentence, after "Westminster", "and demand the establishment of a democratically accountable procedure." DERRY

3.12 All deleted and replaced by:

"The Workers Party is committed to the devolution of substantial powers to a new central democratic institution within Northern Ireland. We believe that the gains of the Civil Rights struggle need to be consolidated in the form of a Bill of Rights to provide a basis for such new institutions of government as many be agreed between the parties and people of Northern Ireland. A Bill of Rights would provide both the political and psychological conditions for permanent progress. Such a demand, endorsed as it is by all democratic political parties in Northern Ireland, can no longer be denied by Westminster on spurious constitutional grounds. There is no greater need in NI than the need to secure the political conditions necessary for a lasting peace. New political institutions which afford the people of Northern Ireland significant control over their own affairs and hold their politicians to account for their words and actions are essential components of the peace process. The imposition of undemocratic government by Direct Rule and the influence of absentee ministers has not helped this process in any way and we demand the immediate ending to the system of order in council.

BELFAST REGION

3.13 That this be amended to read “The Party will therefore continue to campaign for all forms of democratic progress, political, economic and social and for a secular and integrated system of education and against terrorism, sectarianism, discrimination and exploitation.

OMAGH

3.14 New paragraph to be inserted:-

“The Party is deeply concerned to protect and expand basic human rights and fundamental freedoms and will campaign for the demilitarisation of life in Northern Ireland, the abolition of all repressive political and social legislation and full political, civil, social, economic and cultural rights, including the demand for comprehensive campaign of social and economic reconstruction in Northern Ireland

Following paragraphs to be inserted:-

new The development of economic policy should be constructed on a three-tier architecture of the economic environment which clearly addresses the opportunities and constraints of the market mechanism.

new The primary tier shall encompass those areas of human endeavour where the social obligations of the State prohibits the operation of a market and strives to guarantee an equitable distribution of services in education, health, housing, justice and transport.

new The secondary tier of the economic model shall encompass the key wealth generating and infrastructural industrial sectors on which the economic progress of the country depends. This tier will be subject to State planning, control and investment and may operate under State ownership, control of partnership with private capital as appropriate. The State will be responsible for the expansion and performance of these key industries which operate necessarily in a competitive international market environment.

new The tertiary tier of the model shall contain the remainder of economic activity in the State which shall be subject to market forces to mediate the quality and price of goods and services and will inevitable be largely owned by private interests. A comprehensive legislative framework will be constructed to protect workers and consumers and to enable the introduction of progressive company taxation regime.
