That’s Enough Talking, Let’s Have a Proper Plan for Housing

Lorcan Sirr
Technological University Dublin, lorcan.sirr@tudublin.ie

Follow this and additional works at: https://arrow.tudublin.ie/beschrecmed

Part of the Urban, Community and Regional Planning Commons, and the Urban Studies and Planning Commons

Recommended Citation
March 11

Marla Zehnder-Kemp, editor of the monthly magazine Ski, in the United States and skiandbusiness.com, the industry’s leading website, reported last week that the French government has launched a new initiative to support the Alpine ski industry. The initiative includes financial incentives for ski resorts to encourage visitors to stay longer and spend more money in the region, as well as measures to improve the safety and accessibility of the slopes.

The initiative includes:

1. A new tax credit for ski resorts that invest in improvements to their facilities and infrastructure.
2. A new program to encourage ski resorts to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region.
3. A new program to encourage ski resorts to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region.

The new program aims to encourage ski resorts to invest in improvements to their facilities and infrastructure, as well as to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region. The program is expected to generate significant new investment in the French ski industry, as well as to create new jobs and boost tourism.

The French government has also launched a new program to encourage ski resorts to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region. The program includes:

1. A new tax credit for ski resorts that invest in improvements to their facilities and infrastructure.
2. A new program to encourage ski resorts to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region.
3. A new program to encourage ski resorts to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region.

The program aims to encourage ski resorts to invest in improvements to their facilities and infrastructure, as well as to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region. The program is expected to generate significant new investment in the French ski industry, as well as to create new jobs and boost tourism.

The French government has also launched a new program to encourage ski resorts to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region. The program includes:

1. A new tax credit for ski resorts that invest in improvements to their facilities and infrastructure.
2. A new program to encourage ski resorts to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region.
3. A new program to encourage ski resorts to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region.

The program aims to encourage ski resorts to invest in improvements to their facilities and infrastructure, as well as to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region. The program is expected to generate significant new investment in the French ski industry, as well as to create new jobs and boost tourism.

The French government has also launched a new program to encourage ski resorts to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region. The program includes:

1. A new tax credit for ski resorts that invest in improvements to their facilities and infrastructure.
2. A new program to encourage ski resorts to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region.
3. A new program to encourage ski resorts to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region.

The program aims to encourage ski resorts to invest in improvements to their facilities and infrastructure, as well as to offer special rates and packages to visitors who stay longer and spend more money in the region. The program is expected to generate significant new investment in the French ski industry, as well as to create new jobs and boost tourism.