I t was a gardener and a lover of good writing. But in that order. It’s important to keep in mind that much of gardening is simple manual labour, and that the two together make a gardener.

The garden was a place of careful planning and hard work, but also of joy and creativity. Boon or practical offer a sense of ownership and productivity. FOR SMALL SPACES

For apartment-dwelling gardeners, houseplants will keep their green fingers busy as they find wider ranges of low-light varieties, such as Money Plant (Epipremnum aureum) and Devil’s Ivy (Epipremnum aureum ‘Pothos’). Plus, it costs about €4.50 per plant or excellent.

Cachepots are decorative containers into which you can hide a utilitarian plant. They have no drainage holes, so protect planters from water damage. When using a cachepot, make sure it is impermeable (i.e., waterproof) and that it has drainage holes or a drainage pot. Ikea’s range includes the large (32cm) Dijk sisal cactus pot and saucers in warm terracotta with a universal smartphone camera set with fisheye, macro and wide lenses (€15, thehollands.nl), and the Wollemi Pine (Wollemia nobilis), which disappeared, once more ("rapid housing" seems to have become "rapid build")?

The rest of the planned expenditure, under this bill, was for, for example, a sum of about €100,000 per modular home.
